

TimeClock Plus[®] Express

Express Delivery

TimeClock Plus Express is designed for customers who have simple time and attendance needs. Tracking employee in and out punches, monitoring who is present, and controlling unnecessary overtime are just a few of the features that Express has to offer. While providing real-time employee hour tracking, TimeClock Plus Express brings you a time and attendance solution in the easiest, most reliable, and adaptable way – like it should be.

Whether your employees clock in through an Internet browser or a time clock device, managing all the information has never been easier.

TimeClock Plus Express is a simple, employee time tracking application with management, hardware and module support, and employee self-service features. Basically, this includes features such as:

- Managing employee hours
- Monitoring employee status
- Running basic reports
- Basic clock in features
- Timesheet entry
- PC & Mac support
- Multiple overtime settings

Web-Based Time and Attendance Applications

One of the biggest advantages to using TimeClock Plus Express is the fact that very little is required for the employees and managers to access the application. It's as easy as opening up a Web browser and following a link. This means that you only install TimeClock Plus Express one time (unless you use our OnDemand environment); no need to worry about maintaining installations on other computers within your network. (Your IT staff will thank you!)
